PROJECTS

These are the standout projects I've worked on in recent years.

Moooo - Moooo builds a connection solution between artists and their fan base like a social network (fan community), including utilities such as live stream, 1:1 video call... In the project, I am in charge of building apps for artist.

Manga reader by SHUEISHA Inc - SHUEISHA is a major Japanese publisher. They have developed a lot of manga apps specifically for the Japanese. I lead a team of 5 iOS Developers to maintain their projects.

Voicy - It is a unique audio platform that is different from radio and podcasts. This is a startup project. I joined the project when they just called for more investment capital. This project is an upgrade to their previous version. I was in charge of audio processing, downloading and uploading audio.

Dân Trí - This is the official newspaper reading application. I am in charge of the entire application development and operation. The app had incredible downloads and was well-reviewed at launch.

TrueMoney Viet Nam - TrueMoney is a financial technology brand, providing e-payment services in Southeast Asia. I joined as a partner when they lacked personnel when developing the application. I am in charge of mobile recharge.

Elsa - ELSA (English Language Speech Assistant) is an English Learning app that helps you with pronunciation and vocabulary to speak English confidently and clearly. I joined to fix the bug when they had a spike in users after getting the startup award. I got to work directly with the founding members of the project to develop the next features.

Unilever Food Solutions - Unilever Food Solutions is a business to support chefs including supplying of food solutions to wholesalers, distributors and eateries of various types. I joined this project from the beginning as an application architecture builder. This project partner is Singapore so our team works directly with them.

SHIMANO - SHIMANO SPORT CAMERA smartphone application makes the camera setting simple and your cycling life more enjoyable. I'm involved in the development of both MAC and iOS apps.
